INTRODUCTION

In history, there have been major events that have had an impact on, or consequences for, people's lives and society.

Choose ONE historical event you have studied this year. You may select any event from any context you have studied this year to write about. This could include:

Context	Event(s)
Black Civil Rights	Montgomery Bus Boycott, The Birmingham Campaign
New Zealand in the World since 1945	1981 Springbok Tour
Race Relations in New Zealand	1975 Land March
The Origins of WWII	Signing of the Treaty of Versailles, The Munich Agreement
Any other event you have studied this year

ESSAY TOPIC

What were the causes of an historical event you have studied this year?
How did this event affect people, or groups, in society?

Structure

Use the following ideas to set out your essay. Use appropriate supporting evidence.

Introduction

Write an opening paragraph that identifies

- the event you have chosen, and its historical setting
- the specific causes of the event
- how the event affected people, or groups, in society.

Body

Write structured and sequenced paragraphs that explain:

- the causes of the historical event
- the consequences of this event on people, or groups, in society.

Conclusion

Write a concluding paragraph that sums up the main ideas and links them back to the focus of the essay.

You should aim to write about 500–600 words.
